

Jamie Stern's Herringbone beautifully threads the needle between timeless style and luxurious splendor. By applying the broken twill weave pattern historically found in wool menswear in a bright foil-on-suede context, the traditional is effortlessly modernized to create an exciting new upholstery material. Ideally suited for low traffic applications such as wall panels, accessories, throw pillows and the upholstery accents on chairs and stools, this is a quality that is sure to catch the eye in any space. Available in seven dazzling colorways, Herringbone seamlessly melds the supple feel of suede splits with the irresistible luster of metallic foils. Please inquire about custom capabilities.
