

Momentum is an elegant nubuck leather with an irresistibly smooth hand and a supple suede-like nap. A sister product to Jamie Stern's Lickety Split, Momentum is gently leveled to minimize the natural grain while still retaining the renowned strength and durability of traditional leather. Each hide of Momentum is pure aniline-dyed for color without receiving any additional pigment. This simple dyeing process is suitable for bold and neutral colors alike and highlights the refined texture that distinguishes nubuck from all other upholstery products. With hides averaging over 50 square feet, Momentum is larger and stronger than its suede counterparts. It makes for an ideal upholstery selection for any project where a luxurious feel and matte appearance are desired.
