

Sonora evokes its namesake desert and the limitless vistas of the American Southwest. Featuring bold, distressed characteristics in an array of classic colors, this essential leather makes for a ruggedly handsome addition to a wide range of projects—a cigar bar, steakhouse, speakeasy or private library. This is a leather that inspires comfort and relaxation.

The cracked floor of the Sonoran Desert, flat top rock formations, sand dunes as far as the eye can see. These iconic natural features of the Southwestern United States directly inspired the worn-in, rustic aesthetics of Sonora. Its six in-stock colorways are paired with a robust semi-aniline finish to protect the leather and ensure it looks distinguished for years to come. During production, Sonora goes through an extensive milling process that lends each hide a supple, luxurious hand that complements the antiqued charm of its two-tone coloration.
