

Triple Crown is a classic distressed leather with a natural texture and distinctly visible grain. This leather achieves its singular appearance when wax is added to its surface before the hides are milled in large drums, creating an antiqued and worn-in appearance. Each hide will feature unique characteristics, patinas and variations, resulting in a truly timeless leather that will never go out of style. In addition to its various aesthetic attributes, Triple Crown features a semi-aniline finish, protecting the leather from easily scratching and fading in sunlight.
